

Carrie Lai, Chris Ingram Jasmine Ingram

Carrie Lai became a good friend while we were living in Sydney, Australia. At that time, she was honing her talents as a teacher of Chinese at one of the finest secondary school in that city. She had recently completed her studies in secondary education at Macquarie University in Sydney. She later relocated to Hong Kong where she secured a position at the Australian International School.

We relocated to Hong Kong as well. Carrie later met and married our best friend in Hong Kong, Chris Ingram. They are pictured here with their daughter, Jasmine.

Carrie obtained a Master's Degree in Chinese language from Hong Kong University, and she continues to teach Mandarin Chinese to young learners. Jasmine is her star pupil. The family visits us in Lake Tahoe to enjoy hiking and fresh air. Carrie and Jasmine also join in teaching Chinese to students in Grass Valley, using their unique and creative teaching methods. The two always leave an indelible impression!
